Learn to Share and Defend Your Faith

The NCBA Evangelism/ Discipleship Team is hosting a training event in Evangelism and Apologetics.

As you know, in this day and age, it can be challenging to share one's Christian faith in the face of the skepticism that is espoused by so many in the world around us. Several things which have happened in the recent past, like the assassination of Charlie Kirk, have ignited a great deal of interest, sincere skepticism and questions. It is important for christians everywhere to be able to engage in this conversation and give the reason for our hope.

This is our generation and that makes it our responsibility. If we don't step up and address these issues and find a way, in the power of God's Holy Spirit, it is likely that a major portion of this of the people around us, our friends, co-workers, neighbors and maybe even family members will be lost to the deceptions and lies that they are being told everyday by those who deny the existence of God and the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

To help us accomplish this we have invited "Coach Tee", Oklahoma Baptists Evangelism Partner to be here on Saturday March 28 at the Association Office to lead a training event in simple personal evangelism and apologetics.

The event is from 8:30 am to 3:00pm (lunch included). Come learn how to respectfully and honestly engage others and share your faith. The go back to you own church and teach others. Afterall Jesus said "you will be my witnesses" (Acts 1:8)

A Time to Remember and Reflect and Respond

As we are entering the Spring season of the year, we are also rapidly approaching a time of remembrance of the most significant event in human history. What is this event you might ask.

It is Passion Week (from the Latin "passio" meaning suffering or enduring) and Easter (or perhaps more accurately the Resurrection Sunday).

For Christians this is a time to remember the great sacrifice of Christ revealing His mercy and grace to lost sinners. I believe that it should also be a time of personal reflection, examination and renewal. So, with that said, I invite you to join me in preparing your heart and mind now to not only celebrate these events but to reflect on them and then allow God to use them to affect your life and interactions both with Him and with others.

When I stop long enough to think on these things, I am reminded of just how fickle the human heart (including mine).

The week begins with people going from cheering and praising Jesus to jeering and calling for His crucifixion. Fortunately, the story didn't end with the crucifixion but with His Resurrection, defeating sin and death.

I am quick to say that I would never have been as fickle as they were, but the truth is without God's grace in my heart I am just as guilty and so are you.

Why would the Jesus take my place on the cross, bearing my sin as the wretched and corrupt man that I am; and in place of my sin, give me His righteousness? The answer is love!

Not the emotional kind of love that we so often hear about today but the "putting my needs above His own" self-sacrificing kind of love. We must never allow ourselves to take this wonderful, matchless, and infinite grace for granted. It is an amazing gift that is completely and totally undeserved.

So, as you come into this Passion week and Easter season remember to let awe filled with gratitude wash over you and then go obey Jesus' command to be His witnesses.

God Bless,
Bro. Bill

Hope Does Not Disappoint: Young Women's Gathering 2026

Saturday, January 17, 58 women from various NCBA churches came together for our first one-day young women's gathering, Hope Does Not Disappoint, rooted in the truth of Romans 5:3-5. The room was filled with worship, encouragement, and a powerful sense of connection as women from different backgrounds gathered with one shared purpose—to be reminded that God's hope never fails.

Throughout the day, attendees experienced meaningful worship, honest panel discussions, and times of small group conversation that spoke directly to real-life seasons of waiting, perseverance, and growth. Speakers and panelists shared openly about how God uses challenges to build character and how His love anchors us in a hope that does not disappoint. Women connected across generations through shared experiences, praying together, and encouraging one another—living out the reminder that we are not meant to walk through life alone.

We are grateful for every woman who attended, served, and/or prayed over this event. YWG-2026 was more than a one day event—it was a testimony to God's faithfulness and the beauty of women coming together to seek Him. We look forward to what God will continue to do as we carry this hope into our daily lives, families, and communities.

Spring Youth Rally

247 students and sponsor from churches across the Association attended the Spring Youth Rally on February 18th at FBC Okmulgee. Berrick Brumley & the Crossroads Praise Band provided the music. The speaker was Duncan Blackwell, Pastor of FBC Elk City who brought a very challenging message about the real you following the Real Jesus.
